Summer Day Camps and Programs

Boston Centers for Youth & Families (BCYF) is the City of Boston's largest youth and human service agency and the lead department for Mayor Thomas M. Menino's Boston R.O.C.K.S!!! summer programming campaign. Included in this brochure are dozens of neighborhood-based summer day camps and programs for Boston's young people. These programs aren't only a lot of fun; they also keep children's minds and bodies active over the summer months so they are prepared for the return to school in the fall.

Each one of BCYF's community centers offers a unique approach to summer enrichment opportunities through ACES-Arts, Community & Civic engagement, Education, and Sports. You can expect your child to participate in a range of opportunities that include arts and crafts, recreation, health and fitness, field trips, specials events, performing arts, neighborhood exploration and cultural activities. Many of these programs are offered to a wide range of ages with some that focus specifically on older children and youth.

BCYF summer programs are offered throughout the City and many of the summer programs provide meals and accept vouchers, offer scholarships, or accept payment on a sliding scale. Each of these rich summer opportunities vary from center to center and space is limited as registration fills quickly. We encourage you to contact BCYF centers directly for specific program and registration information. For your convenience a list of centers with contact information is noted on the previous page. Please note you will be required to provide up-to-date physical examination and immunization records for your child. All camps comply with regulations of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health and are licensed by the local board of health.

Summer is an exciting time and there are hundreds more summer programs offered by other city departments and private non-profits that you can find out about by going to www.bostonyouthzone.com or calling 617-635-KIDS.
